Verse 1

It was a hot summer evening,
 You said let's take a quick dip,
 Pulled your hair back in a pony tail,
 When your clothes hit the floor,
 Well I almost lost my mind.
 Then you stepped into the water,
 Touching skin to skin.
 The only thing that I could say was,

the Sun had began to set,
 and wash of all of the sweat.
 Girl you were looking fine.
 well I almost lost my mind.

pulled me close and we were
 That ain't no sin.
 I can't get enough of you.

Verse 2

It was about and hour later,
 Wrapped up in each other,
 Outside we could hear the thunder,
 And you whispered to me softly,
 Then I pulled you closer to me,
 never ever kissed before.
 As you looked into my eyes, I breathed,

we were lying on the floor.
 your skin was so soft and warm.
 the smell of a coming storm.
 Well are you coming back for more.
 and I kissed you like we'd

I can't get enough of you.

Verse 3

The morning breeze blew through the window,
 I went downstairs to the kitchen,
 I took the pot up to our bedroom and said,
 You said thank you very kindly sir,
 You know coffee just won't do.

I could smell the fresh cut hay.
 to brew some coffee and start the day.
 Honey this cups for you.
 but you know coffee just won't do.

Then we crawled under the covers,
 we left off last night.
 As we lay there in each others arms,
 I looked deep into your eyes, and said and we started up where

 And it felt so right.
 and you were squeezing me so tight.
 what are you doing tonight.
